MYTHBUSTERS

We take on the myths, misinformation and lies about union representation and set the record straight!

MYTH: The union's organizing drive is illegal because petition cards were gathered at work, rendering the cards and signatures null and void.

TRUTH: The organizing drive was conducted in compliance with Florida Statute 447, as evidenced by the simple fact that the college has not raised an objection with the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC). In fact, PERC has certified the petition cards and authorized an election for May 4. If there were any indication that the petition card gathering process was conducted in violation of FS 447, the highly paid Miami law firm specializing in labor issues and representing the college would have filed an objection. The lack of any objection speaks for itself.
